

FLOW 2012 Photo Contest: Photographers capture the spirit of FLOW

Written by Erin Jerabek Heelan

Congratulations to FLOW 2012 photo contest winner, Emma Fiala, Northside resident and Owner of Frost on Flower Photography.

Fiala is a natural light photographer who shoots formal portraits as well as photojournalistic candid shots. Fiala is also experienced in wedding and portrait photography.

"FLOW this year was my first time showcasing any of my work publicly," said Fiala. "It was a lot of fun and a great learning experience. I brought my camera along with me to document my day, the new friends I met, the other events I saw and the details of my first, of what I hope is many, art shows."

Fiala lives with her husband and daughter in the Willard Hay neighborhood and works with McKinley CSA in the McKinley neighborhood during the spring and summer months. Fiala's work can be seen at www.frostonflower.com.
