Last month, Northeast Bank was honored by the Twin Cities North Chamber of Commerce with the receipt of the

2012 Excellence in People Development Award

. The award was received on behalf of the Bank by Andrea Murphy at an official Roaring 20's-themed awards gala held on February 24, 2012. Our award submission was based on our philosophy of people development, our generous education reimbursement program, and our extensive internal and external training and development options. Specific examples were also noted regarding our many members of management that started off in entry-level positions before being promoted to their current roles.
