

Heather Ann Thompson

Tuesday, April 30, 7 p.m.

Metropolitan State University Library, Ecolab Room, 645 East Seventh Street

Dr. Heather Ann Thompson writes on the history as well as public policy implications of today's criminal justice system. Her talk will discuss the impact of mass incarceration on America's cities, its economy, and its very democracy. Thompson is the author of numerous articles on the justice system as well as the book Whose Detroit: Politics, Labor and Race in a Modern American City. She is currently writing the first comprehensive history of the Attica Prison Rebellion of 1971 and its legacy. Sarah Walker, co-chair of the Second Chance Coalition, will serve as a local responder.

DAVID NOBLE LECTURE SERIES:

Written by
Wednesday, 24 April 2013 13:52

Visit the friends of the Emancipation Proclamation website for more information on the Emancipation Proclamation.