

Energizing Harvest Prep

Written by Lydia Schwartz, Contributing Writer
Thursday, 05 June 2014 15:39

Minneapolis, MN—On May 27, Xcel Energy announced a yearlong partnership with Harvest Preparatory School in North Minneapolis. The commitment includes a $50,000 grant to make the building more energy efficient and to support the school's Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics education (STEM). Xcel Energy employees are also expected to volunteer in classroom learning, and at family events over the 2014-15 school year that will teach students how to be energy efficient at home.

Harvest Preparatory School is the only full time nonpublic African American-centered elementary school in the State of Minnesota. It is part of the Harvest Network of Schools along with Best Academy, the Mastery School, and the Success through Educational Evolutionary Development (SEED) Academy—a preschool and daycare center adjacent to Harvest Preparatory.

Energizing Harvest Prep

Written by Lydia Schwartz, Contributing Writer
Thursday, 05 June 2014 15:39

Energizing Harvest Prep

Written by Lydia Schwartz, Contributing Writer
Thursday, 05 June 2014 15:39

BY THE WAY, THE ABOVE IS NOT A LINK TO A VIDEO OF THE MAN SPEAKING AT THE MEETING. IT IS A LINK TO A VIDEO OF THE MAN SPEAKING AT THE MEETING.