Minneapolis-Saint Paul International Airport, MN—On May 29, 2014, the Airport Foundation at MSP opened its first national art exhibit, with former Fox 9 News anchor Robyne Robinson as curator. The show, 'Renewal,' beautifully showcases Minnesota and our annual springtime renewal of culture, tradition, and spirit.

The exhibit features the paintings, ceramics, and many other media forms of local artists that speak to our connection with nature. "Renewal is all about how the little green shoots begin to emerge in springtime," Robinson said, "and how we as Minnesotans emerge with it. We have gathered the best artwork that Minnesota has to offer, from Duluth to the Twin Cities... When people travel through, all they know about us is snow. But once the weather breaks we emerge too and we all begin to hear the same three phrases: 'going up north,' 'at the cabin,' and 'on the lake.' This exhibit reflects our desire to mimic nature."
